THE lead actor of Fame the Musical visited Loreto Normanhurst on November 5 to talk about his career.

Timomatic, aka Tim Omaji, performed for the students and answered questions about rehearsals for Fame and the audition process.

"From the moment he walked into the school's theatre he was extremely captivating and entertaining," year 12 drama captain Isabella Stilin said.

"Timomatic showed us a video of the production process of Fame, which was really interesting and a great glimpse into how Fame was made.

"Some girls asked about his background; we found out he was a self-taught dancer until he appeared on So You Think You Can Dance which was inspiring."

Timomatic's visit was part of the school's active performing arts program which lets the girls experience a variety of professional performers.
